Analysis of The 23 Jun 2008 Secklendorf Crop Circle

(12/25/2016)

Comments:

The black and white drawing is not as accurate as the picture of the crop circle where it is missing one notch and shows dates that can be 6 or more days different from the color photo of the crop circle. Thus for this reason we choose to use the original color picture of the crop circle.

Clue 1 From Zetatalk: <http://www.zetatalk.com/index/zeta461.htm> A spectacular new crop picture appeared at Secklendorf, Germany on June 23, 2008

The Secklendorf crop circle has merged many elements of the coming pole shift. We have warned that the pole shift will occur toward the end of a magnetic trimester, and the trimesters are clearly central to this design. The notched circles are indicative of trauma points, with major trauma at the end of one trimester. Minor trauma is experienced during the pole shift year during the other trimesters. What of the orbs in the outer circle? These seem to be planets, of equal size in many instances, but what does the placement mean? Earth, Venus, and the Dark Twin are of equal size. Earth and Venus are allowed to be crowded together, caught in the cup, the eddy flow in front of Planet X, as they are in separate orbits and this puts distance between them. The third planet of equal size, the Dark Twin, is behind the Earth in their shared orbit as the Repulsion Force keeps them apart. But what of the odd cluster on the opposite side of the circle - planets of unequal size. Going into the pole shift, approaching the end of the magnetic trimester when the pole shift will occur, there will be clashes between the planets, including clashes with Planet X itself. As Planet X approaches the Earth, the cup of the eddy flow tightens, forcing Earth and Venus toward Planet X, the larger orb, as it does so. The Dark Twin falls outside of the cup at this point, thus becoming a minor element during the last weeks.

Clue 2 From Zetatalk: <http://www.zetatalk.com/ning\29ma2010.htm>

June 23, 2008 This crop circle is a simplistic reminder of the magnetic trimesters, where Secklendorf was complex. Secklendorf included major Earth change notches, and the positions of those planets caught in the cup - Venus, Earth, and the Dark Twin. There is endless speculation among those hungry for a timeline clue, as to how the present and past line up, so a timeline to the future can be grasped. But since the planets and notches do not come with labels, this has proved to be an elusive conclusion. By the time Secklendorf is understood with certainty, mankind will be well on its way to being in the 8 of 10 scale point, and the issue will be moot.

What does All this mean?

From clue 1: Minor trauma is experienced during the pole shift year during the other trimesters. This seems to indicate the time line that is talked about is one year only and that is the year of the Pole Shift.

From clue 2: There is endless speculation among those hungry for a timeline clue, ---- By the time Secklendorf is understood with certainty, mankind will be well on its way to being in the 8 of 10 scale point,... I agree with all of the Zeta's comments and especially that there will be lots of speculation as to what this crop circle means until possibly after it all happens.

The following is a current analysis or understanding based on 18 April 2017 as the most probable Pole Shift date.

This crop circle has three circular rings around the center triangle that point to what is assumed to be the trimesters. The Zeta clues confirm this. The outer and inner circle seem to be related to each other. This is because of the half circles at each trimester on the inner circle that indicates this ring applies to the outer ring or circular planets. The middle ring indicates dates either before or after the PS found at the end of one of the Trimesters. April was found as the trimester most likely trimester for the Pole Shift. This is from in an earlier analysis report due to matching the direction of the incoming path of PX approach see “-The_Current_Most_Likely_Dates_for_a_Pole_Shift_2016.PDF”

Now the question is: Is increasing time for the middle and inner circle clockwise or counterclockwise? On one side of the outer circle, there are 3 small circles representing planetary alignments. PX would need to move in a counter clockwise direction on the side of this outer circle where Earth and Venus pushed close together and the dark twin a distance away. Planet X is not shown but is implied to be pushing Venus and Earth close to each other after passing the dark twin. All three circles on this side are the same size this would imply a view point of the not shown PX as being between earth's twin and closer to Venus so all 3 look nearly the same size.

As we continue to the other side in a counter clockwise direction we see the same configuration of 3 planets starting with earth's twin and then a shorter distance to Venus-Earth that are still close together. The biggest planet we take to represent PX. Thus on this side PX has moved to after pole shift time with Venus and Earth close behind. So we conclude this timing diagram will work from before to after the pole shift.

Note that the Earth's dark twin is now shown as not as far away on this side compared to the opposite side of this outer circle, thus having come closer to earth. Just as the Zeta's have said it would get closer to earth at Pole Shift time. The dark twin is shown as smaller than Venus-Earth from the view point of PX at the later time frame of having past Earth.

Thus, this outer ring makes sense if PX moves in counter clockwise direction for increasing dates or time. Thus with increasing time in a counter clockwise direction we can lay the image of the crop circle over a yearly planetary counter clockwise clock. See figure 1.

At this point we jump to the inner most circle with the small half planetary indicating circles at the tip of each trimester. The notches on this inner circle seem to have something to do with outer most circle. This inner circle is then taken as the start of a timeline of trauma point notches. Moving counter clockwise we jump to the middle or timing circle where at the end of one of the trimesters we find a Pole Shift. If this is taken as the 20 April trimester end then we get the following dates as shown in figure 1.

extensive disruption of radio-cell-phone communication from emp bursts; or sudden increased widespread sickness (maybe due to increased magnetic dispersion); or More earth changes; or something new not expected.

4. Starts near 8-9 April 2017 with earth changes lasting about 10-11 days, ending in the Pole Shift near 18 April 2017. See –“PS_Count-Down_Checklist_Worksheet_Template_2016.pdf” for more details.
5. Starts near 3-4 Jun 2017 lasting about 5-6 days.
6. Starts near 4-5 Sep 2017 for 2 days.
7. Starts near 16-18 Sep 2017 for 3 days.

The last 3 notches or trauma points have the following possibilities: Follow up earth changes; or possibly the hybrid's or ET make a move to make themselves more known; or sudden increase in predicted after PS die off of humans; or further human awareness increase or human ascension; or something else we are not currently expecting.

The good news: There are no more trauma notches after Sep 2017. So in the final analysis we see the possibility of 3 trauma dates up to 5 months after the pole shift.

Note that these dates are estimated from the Arial picture and could be off by as much as several days.

It is possible to travel around the timing circle in a clockwise direction. This is possible but not likely to have been intended. Thus, the following is presented for completeness. Some may resonate with some of the dates as a possibility. Thus the following is presented.

Secklendorf 23 Jun 2008 Crop Circle and Trauma Dates leading up to the Pole Shift

Possible dates to watch are:

1. Near 6-7 November 2016 for about 6 days. The presidential election on 8 Nov may qualify to some as a trauma notch.
2. Near 21-22 November 2016 lasting 2 days. As far as one can tell no major trauma occurred during this time.
3. Near 16-18 February 2017 for about 5-6 days. This time frame has not come up yet at the writing of this report.
4. Near 10-14 April 2017 start of Pole Shift trauma lasting about 10-11 days. Note that this notch goes past 20 April 2017 the end of the trimester, which it should not do if this were the proper way of reading this crop circle.
5. Near 28-30 April 2017 for about 6 days.
6. Near 16-18 May 2017 for about 10 days.
7. Near 9-11 Jun 2017 for about 6 days.

Note that the above dates did not fall all within the year of the pole shift as noted by the Zeta's that it should. This is another indication that this is not the proper way to analyze this crop circle. Time will tell.
