8 of 10 Visibility

The Zetas predicted over two years ago that there will be increased visibility of Nibiru, aka Planet X, during the 8 of 10 phase, which they explained had begun to overlap with the 7 of 10 plate movements because these 7 of 10 plate movements had been mitigated to proceed at a slower pace (to allow time for Obama to arrange an announcement admitting the presence of Nibiru nearby).

ZetaTalk Prediction 2/2/2013: We stated that the 7 of 10 plate movements would complete before the 8 of 10 scenarios would flower fully, and that the 8 of 10 is a long and oppressive phase, not over quickly within months. During the 8 of 10, mankind will be aware of the pending passage, whether there is an announcement by NASA and Obama or not. We have described an increased visibility of Planet X, aka Nibiru and its components during the 8 of 10. But has this not already arrived to some degree? One can scarcely go on YouTube without being flooded by videos of Nibiru, aka Planet X and its Moon Swirls. For the 8 of 10, as it progresses, Planet X will be positioned more to the right in the line of sight, so that sunlight will bounce off the dust cloud clinging to and thus shrouding Planet X, supporting dramatic Second Sun sightings on a daily basis, worldwide.

ZetaTalk Prediction 12/4/2013: We have recently hinted that increased visibility of Planet X will be part of the 8 of 10 scenarios.

Has that time arrived? The quality and un-deniability of the videos being posted on the Pole Shift ning blog dedicated to these captures has recently taken a leap forward. In one, dated July 12, 2013, a bright Moon Swirl has developed its own lens flare, proving the Moon Swirl itself is not a flare. In this, the photographer moves the cam about to show motion in the Sun's flare, demonstrating the stability of the Moon Swirl and its own flare.

This brilliant Moon Swirl's position is confirmed by Alberto's red filter videos, taken on July 6, 2013. Compare the location. It is to the left, or lower left of the Sun, matching the video taken on July 12, 2013.

In another, also dated July 12, 2013, a highly professional analysis of a Monster Persona of Planet X itself shows that this orb is not an illusion, nor a sundog, and clearly is some object that stands between the Earth and the Sun. Per the Zetas, this is likely a Monster representation of Planet X itself.

http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=p\_9aaZE7eYw

Note the similarity of the current capture to a Monster captured in 2003 where the 2003 Monster stands behind the telephone wires.

ZetaTalk Analysis 7/20/2013: As we predicted would occur during the 8 of 10 phase, visibility of the Planet X complex has increased. As we have explained, Planet X and the Earth assume a more side-by-side posture during the 8 of 10 phase, Planet X moving forward in its path but the Earth pulling far to the left where it is trapped within the cup. Visibility increases because the angle of bounce for sunlight reflected off the vast dust cloud that shrouds both Planet X and the Moon Swirls is more optimal. When the Planet X complex was positioned more between the Earth and Sun, the bounce most often returned sunlight to the Sun or to the side, off into space. It was the rare times when the angle was right, at sunrise or sunset, that the people of Earth saw what they thought were two suns rising or setting. Now this optimal angle is present for most of the day.

Video captures, by experts who adjust the hue to explore what appears under various light spectrums, have begun appearing on the Internet, asserting that a large object can be seen under the Sun or somewhat to the right or left of this position. The objects look spherical, distinct, implying they are planets rather than Moon Swirls. Are any of these objects the Planet X corpus itself? During the decade that Planet X has been in the inner solar system, slowly making its way past the Sun, Planet X has presented many faces, including the Monster Persona where it looks huge and perfectly round. This is caused by light fanning outward but then being drawn back by the gravity of Earth. Where the Monster is not the size of Planet X, the light rays originate from Planet X, thus documenting its current location just under the Ecliptic.

Some of the recent captures are of Moon Swirls, so extremely bright (as has been their characteristic) that in one case a video captured a lens flare from the Moon Swirl. Thus proving the Moon Swirl is distinct, not in and of itself a Moon Swirl. What will this increased visibility mean for the lingering cover-up, not yet dealt a death blow as of today, July 13, 2013 by Obama's planned announcement. This visibility has created increased chatter on the Internet, a growing sense in the public that they are being lied to about the erratic weather, sudden tides, and Sun and Moon obviously out of place. After the announcement, there will be many who will claim Nibiru, aka Planet X, is a falsehood, still in denial or attempting to placate mankind so they remain on the coastlines and in their jobs. This visibility is thus a great weapon against that type of disinformation.

8 of 10 Expectations

The Zetas have been reluctant to detail much of what will occur during the 8 of 10 phase, because they felt their warnings would fall on deaf ears. Until mankind is fully aware of the presence of Planet X, and the pending passage, their attempts to warn mankind would be a wasted effort. But some details have been revealed. One is that a blending of the seasons can be expected. We have already had snow in Summer, but the 8 of 10 prediction goes beyond this.

ZetaTalk November, 2010: The blending of the seasons will be a phenomena that will occur during the 8 of 10 scenarios, in the time prior to the last weeks.

ZetaTalk October, 2011: We have stated that a blending of the seasons will be a factor, to the extent that the weather would jump from mid-summer to mid-winter within a day or so. We are not there as yet.

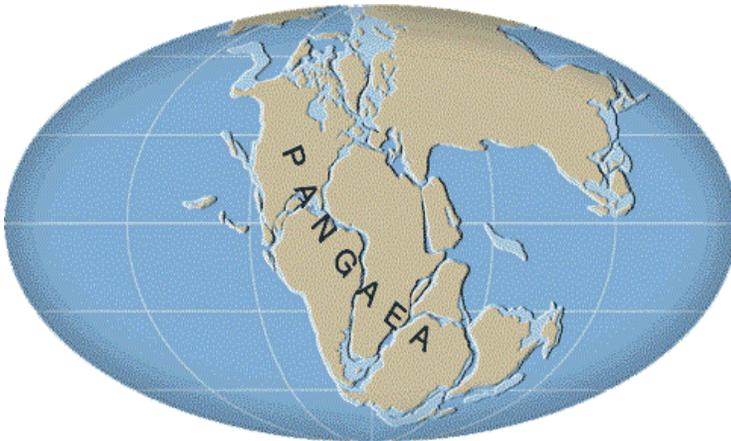

This was also a phenomena that was recorded in China prior to the last Pole Shift. The powerful Xia empire not only suffered from snow in Summer, it suffered a collapse at this time, equivalent to the Jewish Exodus during which the powerful Egyptian empire seemed to fall apart, the Jewish slaves led by Moses escaping against all odds. Written during the reign of Emperor Jie of Xia c.1600 BC:

In the twenty-ninth year of King Jie, the Sun was dimmed. King Jie lacked virtue. The Sun was distressed. During the last years of Chieh ice formed in mornings and frosts in the sixth month. Heavy rainfall toppled temples and buildings. Heaven gave severe orders. The Sun and Moon were untimely. Hot and cold weather arrived in disorder. The five cereal crops withered and died.

The Zetas have also hinted that continuous plate movement will happen in some places, and that the continents will become displaced so their relationship to one another is not as it is at present. They gave no further details.

ZetaTalk May, 2010: During an 8 of 10, where significant plate movement in one area does not start and stop, but just keeps going.

ZetaTalk September, 2010: We have stated that the 8 of 10 will involve continuous plate movement in some locations, but declined to detail further and for good reason. We cannot get the public to connect with our description of the pole shift, in the main, as they abstract it and do not process the description emotionally.

ZetaTalk April, 2011: The exact position of the continents is not in complete accordance with their post Pole Shift alignment, however, but to detail these changes would be getting into the 8 of 10 scenarios prior to the time when we are ready to discuss these scenarios.

ZetaTalk October, 2011: We have hinted that continuous plate movement will be a factor during the 8 of 10, but declined to give more details on location or extent or such movement.

The Zetas included the torquing of the Arabian Plate to the degree that the pointed top plows through the oil fields of Iraq, setting these aflame, as part of the 8 of 10 scenarios.

ZetaTalk June, 2010: We also hinted, last week, at what might be included in an 8 of 10, specifically oil explosions in Iraq due to plate movement, continuous plate movement (rather than start or stop activity along fault lines), and planetary clash. It would be safe to say that all of the scenarios in the holographic presentation will occur by or during an 8 of 10 stage.

ZetaTalk July 2010: In that we have also confirmed that burning oil fields in Iraq, caused by the rolling of the Arabian Plate, will be part of an 8 of 10

Sociological changes will be a big factor during the 8 of 10 phase. Migrations will intensify. Rioting in desperation and anger will be on the increase. Growth of the barter system will occur to replace traditional retail and banking markets. Treaties will be broken. And the rise of survival camps will emerge.

ZetaTalk July 2010: Those who have survived the 7 of 10 or 8 of 10 cataclysms will sort out into camps, as we have described, of those determined to survive and taking action, and those preferring denial. Deals or agreements made before the major Earth changes, what we have described as the 7 of 10 or 8 of 10 stages, will certainly be broken. All treaties are, eventually.

ZetaTalk March, 2011: These sociological and political dramas are part of the 8 of 10 scenarios, as well as geological and astronomical features. This is the next chapter.

ZetaTalk March 2011: All this is subject to change, as the sociological changes accompanying the 8 of 10 Earth changes play out.

ZetaTalk October, 2011: We have stated that the 8 of 10 will also involve sociological factors, without getting into specifics other than to point to the Arab Spring.

Minor Tsunami

Recently there have been minor tsunami along the Andes in S America and of all places, in New Jersey. This is brushed off by the establishment as being due to the weather, somehow, but a closer look shows the cause to be plate movement where earthquake seismometers cannot be located - deep under the ocean.

Chimbote: Population Worried and Fearful before Abnormal Waves

July 8, 2013

<http://www.larepublica.pe/08-07-2013/chimbote-poblacion-preocupada-y-temerosa>

Residents living near the boardwalk Grau, in Chimbote, remains alert, worried and fearful of the strong waves that are recorded for several days and has resulted, at some point, flooding streets and houses.

Massive Waves Crash Over Chile's Coast

July 5, 2013

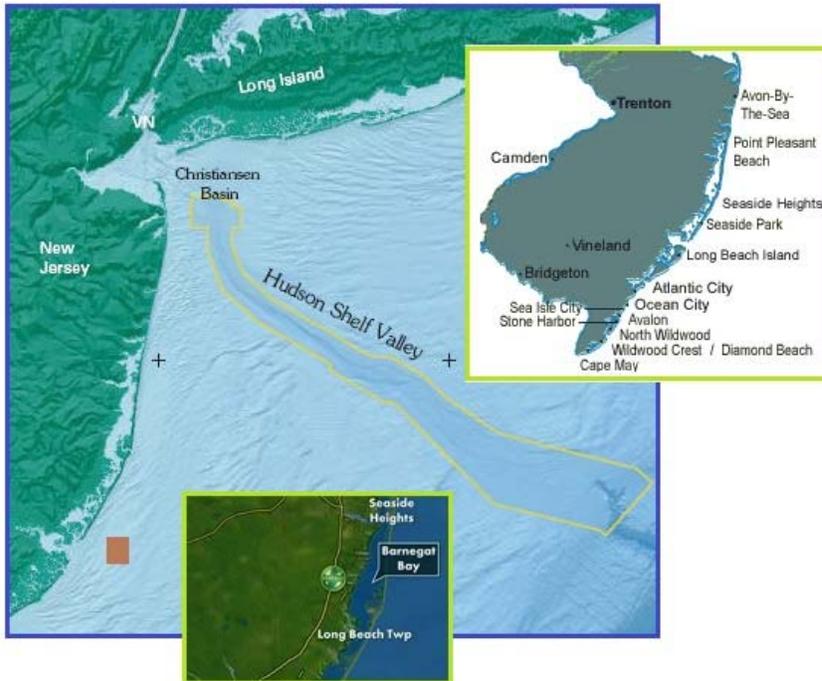

<http://ntdtv.org/en/news/world/south-america/2013-07-05/massive-waves-crash>

A large strip of Chile's Pacific coast remained on alert as massive swells continued to pound the coastline due to strong weather. High winds and tidal movements have combined to create swells with 22-foot (7m) waves in some parts of the coastline. The sea was equally as rough about 60 miles (100km) south in the seaside resort town of Santo Domingo. Waves were seen crashing over seawalls and onto roadways. A nearby port was reported completely closed to all vessels. One resident, Danilo Osorio says he's never seen such high swells. "Well yes, we've had large swells before, but this is the first time they have been so big with such tall waves 16 feet (5m)."

Members of the Pole Shift ning have noted the relationship between the large waves in Peru and Chile with plate movement quakes in the region. The S American Plate, the Caribbean Plate, and the Nazca and Cocos plates are all registering quakes along their edges, simultaneously! In addition, the Pacific, the Indo-Australian, the Philippine Plate, and the N American Plate along the San Andreas are lit up like a Christmas tree. These plates are on the move!

On June 13, 2013 New Jersey had 6 foot high waves sweeping inland during an outbound tide. Residents were swept off the rocks and hospitalized. The establishment explanation was, of course, the weather, but the press insisted on using the word tsunami in their headlines. Per the Zetas – not the weather.

Rare Tsunami-Type Wave hit Jersey Shore

June 13, 2013

<http://m.usatoday.com/article/news/2458447>

It appears that a rare type of tsunami called a "meteotsunami" hit the New Jersey coast June 13, with Barnegat Light bearing the brunt of the wave. Strong weather systems can cause jumps in air pressure, spawning waves that act just like tsunamis. There may have been some other source involved, such as a subsea slump in the continental shelf off New Jersey. In Boothbay Harbor, water levels in the harbor dropped rapidly, then surged to flood docks and buildings along the waterfront.

Tsunami Strikes the Jersey Shore

July 10, 2013

<http://www.nbcphiladelphia.com/news/local/Tsunami-Strikes-the-Jersey-Shore>

A large wave, approximately 6-feet from peak to trough, coming across the inlet. The wave was so powerful that it swept two people off a rock jetty and into the water on Long Beach Island. The tsunami was observed at over 30 tide gages and one DART buoy throughout the Northwestern Atlantic Ocean.

ZetaTalk Explanation 7/13/2013: Clearly the Atlantic is ripping open. If the Pacific compresses, as can hardly be denied when the Pacific Rim is so active, then the Atlantic must widen. Such ripping is silent on seismographs, but on land produces crevasses and when under water, tsunamis can result. The clue that this is not due to atmospheric changes is the buoy reading in the Atlantic. The tsunami also went against the outbound tide, such was the push. Long Beach Island, the point of greatest impact, was influenced by the continental shelf rift, an old river bed that cuts deep into the shelf. Note that the entry into the rift lies directly East of Long Beach Island, in harm's way. This episode will be repeated as plate movement accelerates.

Pole Shift Severity

Those seeing the severity of the 7 of 10 plate movements ameliorated to proceed more slowly, and thus with less violence, have wondered if such interference by the Council of Worlds might not change the impact of the Pole Shift itself. No need to be concerned, it will all go away, or so the heart hopes. ZetaTalk accuracy shows that our predictions are to be taken seriously, but the Zetas are not in control of the process. The Pole Shift is a natural occurrence, and the Council of Worlds does not interfere with natural occurrences. Per the Zetas, mankind can thank Obama for his courage and determination to smash the cover-up over the presence of Nibiru, aka Planet X, as it was this intention that caused the Council of Worlds to ameliorate the 7 of 10 plate movements.

ZetaTalk Comment 7/6/2013: We have repeatedly stated that the coming Pole Shift is a natural event, and as such the Council of Worlds will not interfere with it. Man's school house is designed to challenge man, so that spiritual lessons may proceed. Do benign aliens prevent tornadoes from shredding towns, floods from drowning those in its path, or prevent lightning from a sudden and unexpected strike? Such an adjustment occurred to delay the 7 of 10 plate movements so that the populace would understand what is pending and not die before being able to act. Will there be additional such rulings?

The Council of Worlds is more inclined to allow interference with the things that have been built by man, such as nuclear bombs or nuclear power stations. Man built it, and The Call given by man can be allowed to change the situation, allowing man to disable what he built, in effect. This does not apply to natural events! What we are stating is that of this day, at this time, the Council has not indicated plans to interfere with the coming Pole Shift beyond what we have already detailed. The 7 of 10 plate movements, including those that would have caused the horrific European tsunami, have been modulated to allow mankind to understand what is coming before these Earth changes strike. This Council decision was influenced in great part by Obama's decision to inform mankind, else the 7 of 10 would have been allowed to play out without interference. The 8 of 10 Earth effects, which include a more severe Earth wobble and greater visibility of the Planet X complex, have been allowed to unfold on schedule.

What are contactees, who are swelling in numbers exponentially, to make of the Pleiadean message that all will be well and the Zeta message can be ignored? The Zetas point to a long-standing difference of opinion between these two Service-to-Other oriented groups, and suggest looking at the reality of what is occurring on Earth today and the Pleiadean or Zeta track records on predictions. Does it look like a tea party lies ahead? And have Pole Shifts been ameliorated in the past?

ZetaTalk Comment 7/6/2013: The populace gets their information about the coming Pole Shift from many sources. One is what the establishment chooses to tell them, which will migrate from an absolute denial that Nibiru, aka Planet X, even exists to a denial that the Pole Shift will be devastating to the Earth. Both are lies. This issue will be debated, as we have explained, with our version of the Pole Shift presented by Nancy and the ZetaTalk website and the establishment version presented by notaries such as Neil de Grasse Tyson. As the Earth changes continue to unfold in step with our predictions, the populace will increasingly take our version seriously.

A second source of information on the coming Pole Shift is afforded to contactees, who are increasing by great numbers the past couple years due to anxiety about the Earth changes. It is not just the erratic weather, it's the Sun and Moon out of place, the constellations not appropriate for the seasons, and all of this ignored by the media. We have mentioned that the Pleiadeans are considered greeters, often the first to respond to a new Call because their appearance is similar to humans and their message gentle. The response to the Call is categorized, so when a new contactee is not satisfied being told that nothing scary will happen in the future, they are transferred to ourselves or other groups who are honest about what is coming.

New Video Clips

Two new video clips added on August 4: Dinosaurs Among Us and Wobble Evidence.

The Zeta Report 59 - Are there living dinosaurs among us? T-rex in Australia, Brontosaurus in the Congo, and were raptors the intelligent species on Earth in the past? On YouTube

The Zeta Report 60 - Earth wobble can be seen in the sunrise and set times and angles, the Auroras strength, weather maps and storm patterns, and long-exposure photos. On YouTube
